

November 16, 2005

Dear Peak Minerals - Azomite, Inc.:

I am sure you have been looking at the enclosed photo of my beautiful, 16-week-old Light Brahma chickens. They have been eating Azomite since they were 3 days old. Although I feed them a premium feed and free-range them, I know they would not display the level of health they have if Azomite were not a regular part of their diet. As peeps, they consumed at least as much Azomite as chick starter.

It was obvious how much they needed those minerals! They "leveled off" the Azomite at about 4 weeks till 21 weeks when they began to consume high quantities once again. The results: egg shells you can hardly crack and chicken meat and bones like none I've ever had before. Through them, I'm becoming healthier due to Azomite too! Best of all, it is a true joy to raise a flock of such happy, healthy chickens. No Avian Flu here!

This letter is meant to share the joy and to thank you for making Azomite available.

Ps

I use Azomite on my garden with the same fabulous results!

Sincerely,
Denise Hestia

